WEEK IN ADVANCE.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

We are authorized to announce Joe A. Barry as the nominee of the Democratic Party, in Representative Breckinridge County, in the Lower House of the next General Assembly of Kentucky.

Mr. Jones, the Chairman of the National Democratic Committee, says: "Travis and expansion will be the issues in the next national campaign."

BRECKENRIDGE county had a live, active, working representative in the Elks' Carnival, in the person of Mr. Carl Richardson. You can't hold a Breckinridge boy down. No matter where you find them, they stand in the front rank and that's where the News loves to see them.

ABOUT one year's time and a million dollars have been devoted by the Shamrock's owner, Sir William Tipton, to the purpose of winning the world's championship in yachting from America, who has held this supremacy for forty-eight years. In both kinds of weather, fair and foul, the three races were made and each time the Columbia came out victorious.

Once more we have conquered the British. The matter of the cup is simply incidental; it is the principle of the thing that we take a pride in. We are willing to be equal and superior to other nations, but never behind them.

Mr. McKinley may or may not be wrong in his Philippine policy, he may or may not be wise in his western tour of speech-making, and he may or may not want to be president in 1900, but one thing is sure, he is mighty correct in his statements to school children in his speech at Duluth.

This speech in another column of this paper should be read by the pupils, teachers, and all others interested in the cause of education and character building.

The street Carnival at Louisville was a big success. Great crowds of people were attracted by it. We are glad to see Louisville waking up. The young, intelligent blood of that city is coming to the front. The men of ideas, of brains, of push and energy are taking hold of affairs. Men who are not afraid of work; men with capital who are not afraid to invest it; these are the men who build up cities and communities. See how that Carnival stirred this state from one end of it to the other. Think of the dollars it put in circulation, of the many bright and happy faces, and friendly greetings that were seen and exchanged. There is no man or woman who visited that Carnival from the country, who is not singing the praises of Louisville and the Elks. This is as it should be. The city people can't live without the country people and we in the country can't get along very well without the city folks, so let us get in touch with each other and we'll be more prosperous and happier. All honor to the Elks and their Carnival.

THERE was another very important meeting held in Louisville last week. One that means more for the success of this section than any that has been held there in years. We refer to the Ohio Valley Improvement Association. The object of this Association is the improvement of the Ohio river and its tributaries, something that every citizen living along the Ohio river is interested in or ought to be. Representative river men from Pittsburgh to Paducah were present, and discussed ways and means of securing more water and better transportation facilities. The discussions were very interesting and we think of vast importance to the farming and business interests of the Ohio Valley. There should have been a better attendance from the lower Ohio. Every town from Louisville to Cairo ought to have been represented. As it was, there were only two or three; Cloverport, Tell City and Evansville. The government has done a great work for the upper Ohio, and it will do the same for the lower, if we will go after it in the right way. Six feet more water from Louisville to Cairo the year round, would mean a whole lot of money to the farmers along the river, and that is what we want. The delegates were royally entertained by Louisville. Capt. W. W. Hite and Mr. E. Galatti, local secretary, were especially kind and courteous. The Association meets next year at Cincinnati.

BRANDENBURG.

Miss Virginia Rhodes has returned from a visit to Louisville.

Miss Ben Lewis spent last week in Louisville and is at home again.

Mrs. S. O. Maltz, of Owensboro, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. George Worland.

Dr. Gabbert, of Boston, Mass., visited his aunt, Mrs. George Dowden last week.

Miss Bettie Clarkson is visiting her grandmother, Mrs. Anstern Clarkson, near Big Spring.

H. H. Harrington, son Harry and Guy Hardin went to Louisville to see and hear Wm. Jennings Bryan.

Dr. Parks, of Webster, was here Sunday to see one of our dearest girls, "a gem of purest ray serene."

The donation party at the Methodist parsonage was a success. The donations were beautiful and a pleasant reception was held.

My next door neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Ditto, have a new boy at their home. A fine, lusty fellow as one could wish to see.

Judge S. P. Woolfolk, wife and daughter, Miss Lula, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Woodson and children made a party last week to the Carnival.

Mrs. J. Casperke went to Louisville last week to see her sister, Mrs. Reba Wege, who is dangerously ill. Much sympathy is felt for Mrs. Casperke.

Miss Barbara Shacklett went to Louisville for a day or two to post herself in the very latest styles. See her at the room next to Farmers' Bank.

Mrs. Massena Fontaine is able to be up most of the time and has walked out in the yard. She is not quite her handsome, jovial self, but we hope she soon may be.

I am indebted to D. M. Duncan for many favors as regards my reports to the Courier-Journal concerning political speeches, election returns, etc. He understands just how.

I am glad to learn through a telegram to the Evening Post that Mr. R. M. Jolly, of Irvington, is better. I have been much concerned about his condition and the anxiety of his good wife.

Miss Lida Powell has returned from the city with all the latest fads and fancies in the dressmaking line—at your service. Miss Fannie Phillips is with her during excellent work.

I am not prepared nor could I ever be to accept all Governor Bradley claimed for his party at the Auditorium—but he spoke in such a manner as to elicit a mood of praise. I am not a narrow partisan.

A committee of prominent citizens in San Francisco has taken steps toward the establishment of a library in Manila for the use of our soldiers. Enthusiastic women as usual will carry it to execution.

Brother Duval preached a strong sermon last Sunday to the young converts. Bro. Litchfield preached at Cedar Grove. His Sundays for the present are 1st and 3rd. The Baptists are 2nd and 4th and the Catholics, 2nd and 3rd.

The ladies and girls of this little town are the most energetic, industrious individuals to be found on this globe, I verily believe and that is not saying a word against the stronger sex. Brandenburg is full of beavers and bees. Employment is happiness.

Next Saturday ex-Governor James B. McCreary will speak here. He is supporting the Music Hall Candidate. Hon. Hal S. Corbett is billed for the same day here. He is a Brown man. I don't know whether they will divide time or divide crowds. I have heard Mr. McCreary (he was a sound-money man) and he is a finished speaker with a fine command of the English language.

Among the pictures of officers of the Grand Lodge, which convened in Louisville, was one of Jas. H. Ashcraft, of Paducah, Grand Senior Deacon. Mr. Ashcraft was reared in this old town and married Miss Mollie Brown, one of our town girls, a beauty too—Mr. Ashcraft is an uncle of Miss Hallie Dowdy of this place.

Mr. Wm. Jennings Bryan, in speeding to Ohio to assist in the election of John R. McLean for Governor, may be preparing to meet his Waterloo—for it is generally conceded by the Solomon of politics that if Mr. McLean is elected, he will as surely be the nominee of the Democratic party at Chicago. Mr. Bryan had far better not mix in this Kentucky contest, the nature and merits whereof he knows nothing.

Old Professor Johnson, a fine teacher who taught here in the 70's, said no child should commence grammar until fifteen or until he had a pretty good knowledge of the other branches. Major Fowler, another successful teacher, who was here about 80 and 87, I believe, said the English language had no grammar. Miss Lula Lewis, one of his brightest pupils and who has taught, would not allow a pupil to study grammar until well versed in the other common school branches. I have about come to the conclusion that many children are ruined in the beginning of the study.

The New Orleans Times Democrat tells of Kentucky club women undertaking a crusade against slang—The federation of our state has prepared a petition that is to be sent to school principals and teachers asking their co-operation with the Council of Club Presidents to secure a more careful use of English and also asking for a more grammatical use of words and better English. Well, we powers that be grant that a change be heralded! It is an offense to the ears that should not exist. This horrid, popular slang and the great amount ungrammatical and poor English heard at home and in the school room make them become disheartened and lose all ambition, thinking they can never comprehend their own language. I do not think there was ever such a grammar as old yellow back Butler and I believe old Prof. D. C. Culley was a born grammarian. He was an enthusiast on the science of grammar and the manner in which he could impart instruction and impress truth was something wonderful. He left out all non-essentials but drove to a complete finish every essential. My class commenced old Butler with him, (all of us about 12 or 14) and continued with him until we quit his school at seventeen or eighteen. We analyzed and parsed by modification from different poets and writers, took up rhetoric and Kane's Criticism, but we never failed to come up twice a week with "old Butler"—We didn't have "taming" in those "old fog" days and "laying aside" but kept on parsing, reading, writing and spelling with higher branches included.

Be sure and read our great offer of the BRECKENRIDGE NEWS for a year and the Farm Journal for the balance of 1899 and all of 1900, 1901, 1902 and 1903, nearly five years, all for the price of our paper alone. Just walk up to the captain's office and draw the biggest prize you ever drew.

LONG BRANCH.

Jim Wiles, of Sirocco, was the guest of Miss Sallie Baskett Sunday.

Harvesting corn is the next most important job with the farmer.

The recent rains made the road quite muddy from here into Brandenburg.

The Lithograph/Book Company is busy sawing out rock and feel that they have a paving stone.

The rains put the ground in excellent condition for wheat sowing, and the farmers are about through.

J. K. Ditto, wife and daughter, Miss Melinda, and sons, Phillip and Paul, were visitors last week to the Carnival at Louisville.

Misses Hendeys, of Preston, were guests of Miss Sallie Baskett Saturday and Sunday. Miss Nannie remains the rest of the week with her.

John T. Ditto and David Ditto had the greatest fox chase of the season on last Wednesday night. David is a terrible fellow for staying out. They had fine very interesting runs and did not get in until 3 a. m.

The Heating Company is putting down a pipe line from the well secured on Benham's farm. They are gradually taking in more territory for more gas, showing that their consumption in Louisville is increasing.

Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup will give immediate relief to a child suffocating with the dreadful cough. Mother, keep this reliable medicine always handy and it will save you many money hours. It costs but 25 cents.

RAYMOND.

Len Cashman was in Louisville last week.

Mrs. Len Cashman and Nettie Robbins spent Sunday afternoon with Mrs. Charlie Miller.

Will Shellman, who is going to college at Irvington, visited his parents Saturday and Sunday.

There will be a spelling match at this place Friday night before the second Sunday. All must come.

We are having a good school taught by Mr. Cain. The pupils all seem to be taking a great interest in their work.

Mrs. J. E. Mercer and Master Jones have been in Louisville for the past week, visiting friends and seeing sights.

J. F. Claycomb has been in Ohio county for the past week, writing for the Continental Fire Insurance Co.

Members Taylor Basham, of Salem, and Tom Beard, of Hardinsburg, were the guests of Misses Janie and Cora Hendry Sunday.

I was glad to see in the News last week, that my cousin Harry Board had a position as hotel clerk at Breckinridge Inn. Harry is a bustling boy, and every one is sure to like him.

Miss Sallie Deacon and Mr. Crawford Eubank were married at the bride's sister Mrs. John A. Vitt's at three o'clock. Here are congratulations.

BEWLEYVILLE.

R. B. McGlothlin was in town Sunday.

We had two good rainy days last week.

Mrs. Otto Robinson is in a critical condition.

Lewis Jolly was the guest of Hurlbut Cain Saturday.

Mrs. Walker was with her husband at Irvington last Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Cain moved to their new house Friday.

W. W. Keith will work awhile on Charlie Hardaway's house.

Hon. Chas. Blanford spent several days in Louisville last week.

Charlie Anderson is building a barn for John Livers near Guston.

Thos. J. Triplett is building a tobacco barn on his farm near town.

Bob Jordan was in Meade county Sunday to see his best girl.

"The way to beat Goebel is to vote

It Hangs On

If it was only health, we might let it cling. But it is a cough. One cold no sooner passes off before another comes. But it's the same old cough all the time. And it's the same old story, too. There is first the cold, then the cough, then pneumonia or consumption with the long sickness, and life trembling in the balance.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

loosens the grasp of your cough. The congestion of the throat and lungs is removed; all inflammation is subdued; the parts are put perfectly at rest and the cough drops away. It has no diseased tissues on which to hang.

Dr. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral Plaster draws out inflammation of the lungs.

Advice Free. Whenever we have a Medical Department, if you have any complaint whatever and desire the best medical advice you can possibly obtain, write the doctor freely. You will receive a prompt reply without cost.

Address, Dr. J. C. AYER, Lowell, Mass.

for Taylor." Don't forget that. "My nature is subdued to what it works in, like the dyer's hand."

Ben Smith returned from a pleasant visit to Louisville last Wednesday.

Mrs. Eliza Jolly is spending sometime with her daughter, Mrs. W. J. Eiggott.

Miss Stella Paul, who has been visiting relatives in Louisville, is back in our midst.

Mrs. McCann and Mrs. Shelley, Mrs. Bennett's visitors, are not with her now.

Clarence Davis was a guest from church at Hon. O. S. Blanford's Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Johnson were visiting the family of D. C. Johnson Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Coleman came from Irvington Sunday to attend church services here.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Cain, of Irvington, were up Sunday visiting relatives and attending church.

William Hardaway who has been living in Texas quite a number of years is visiting the home of his birth and earlier years.

Lenard Smith was at home Saturday and Sunday. He brought Miss Cecil Spradlin with him to be the guest of Miss Nannie Hicks.

Our congratulations are to our young friends, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Hardaway who are the happy parents of a baby boy, who arrived Friday, Oct. 20th.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Hardaway are the guests of Ernest's parents. They were attending church Sunday. A handsome couple would be hard to find.

Bro. Mall preached for us Saturday and Sunday. We all like our new preacher and feel that he truly has our interests at heart. His subject Sunday was Religion.

A Good Speaker.

Hon. W. E. Minor, of Addison, passed through this city Friday, on his way to address a large audience at Patesville, in the interest of the Goebel ticket.

Mr. Minor is a good speaker and attracts many hearers. It is said he made the speech of his life in Lewisport last week, where he won many converts to the Goebel cause.

Prominent in Paducah.

Mr. Reuben Rowland, a prominent capitalist in Paducah, is visiting his brother, Captain J. H. Rowland.

Mr. Rowland was once a manager of the Paducah Trust Co., and stands among the foremost business men of that city. He is a member of the regular Democratic party and will vote for Goebel.

Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup cures the most stubborn coughs, colds and lung affections. Even incipient consumption has been successfully cured by this marvellous remedy. Sufferers will obtain relief after a few doses.

Dr. Cox, of Cannelton, was in town Thursday.

Master Pete Hiner Best is visiting in Louisville.

Mr. Herman Lay spent Sunday in Cannelton.

The infant of Mr. and Mrs. Livers is no better.

Floyd Miller, of Henderson, was in town Sunday.

Mr. Clark, of the Coopers Co. was in town Friday.

Mrs. C. Best and little daughter are visiting in Louisville.

Mrs. M. Blain returned from Louisville Friday evening.

Mrs. Bettie Napper spent a few days last week in Louisville.

Mrs. James Crawford spent Saturday and Sunday in Louisville.

Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Lewis are visiting his father at Bowling Green.

Misses Fannie McKanghan and Gertie Barnes were in town Tuesday.

Messrs. Harland Morgan and Forest Blain went to Fordville Monday.

Mr. A. J. Earls passed through town Sunday, en route for Hawesville.

Mr. and Mrs. F. O. Ferry and little son, Miller, are visiting in Louisville.

Regular services were held at the M. E. church Sunday by Rev. Gallway.

Mrs. H. S. Engleah and Miss Dee Basham spent Saturday and Sunday in Louisville.

Misses Sue Brashear and Minnie Hoyle of Union Star, attended the meeting at the Christian church Sunday.

There will be a series of meetings at the Christian church by Reverends Cowan and Graham. Every one is cordially invited to attend.

GLENDEANE.

A big crowd went from here to Louisville Monday.

A great many of our people were in Louisville last week.

Jesse L. Owen returned from Louisville Saturday night.

Rev. Henry Sparks, of Leitchfield, was in town Saturday.

Miss Amanda Deane spent Saturday with Miss Mary Moorman.

Richard Lewis, a patient sufferer from cancer, died Sunday night.

Miss Mattie Owen left Saturday for Carrollton, Ky., where she will visit for several weeks.

Frank Peaks and Judge Dougherty will speak here Friday night. I am told they are able speakers. Come out to hear them.

An addition of forty odd new books was made to the Utopia library last week. It now has 155 volumes. They are read, too.

Rev. Wm. Ritzmann, pastor of East Broadway German church, Louisville, filled Bro. Rutledge's appointments here Sunday. He greatly pleased the people.

Lucky Dave Moorman had one odd piece of ill luck. When he had finished drilling a 20 acre field of wheat he discovered that five of the hoses were clogged and had fed no wheat at all. The fertilizer had been placed but no wheat in five-eighths of his field.

This town is about to lose one of the jolliest, biggest hearted, best men it ever had, Jeff Owen, who is the best salesman, staunchest Democrat and most all around good fellow you'll meet anywhere. It is reported that he will go on the road for a Louisville shoe house.

All Breckinridge county knows Lee Meyer and his many friends will be pleased to know that he has made a very successful drummer. For the past few years he has been with a Louisville shoe house. Next month he takes a position as travelling salesman for J. M. Robinson & Co., of Louisville.

Hon. Chas. Blanford will speak here before the election. I have always regretted that he has not been his party's nominee for Congress or for some state office at some time when the Republicans came out ahead. There is no better man nor honest. When our county, district or state becomes Republican, if such calamity must come, he should have the best office of the list. Also come when he speaks.

They say, "Don't wake a baby to see it laugh" and I've mentally added "Never wake a bachelor to show him a baby." But the added advice proved wrong last week. Tired out and sound asleep on the train last Thursday night, I was waked by ex-Sheriff, St. Pate, who said with a father's pride, "Joel, I want you to see the baby." I was sleepy and cross, but the beautiful baby face instantly caught my admiration and banished crossness. Little Walker Pate is a beautiful baby. Mr. and Mrs. Pate and the little one were on their way to Sargent, Ky., to visit Mrs. Pate's sister, Mrs. Stum.

Appreciate a Good Thing.

Mr. A. L. Atwood, of Hardinsburg, was in town Thursday, on business. He called at the News office and said, "I have just come to congratulate the editor on the excellent paper he is now getting out. I would not be without it for double its price."

Quotient Couple.

Long Branch, Oct. 23—Special.—Mr. Bud Nantz and Miss Little Childs, of Guston, went to Jeffersonville Sunday where they were married. They were accompanied by Miss Mattie Basham.

This young and happy couple were visiting the old folks and came to this place to start for the Greene Green.
